At Merritt Hawkins & Associates, our consultants are dedicated to meeting the needs of our clients and ensuring the best possible match between the client and candidate. In the following assessment, Paula Rossi, Director of Human Resources for Coastal Medical, Inc. in Providence, Rhode Island, discusses how Merritt Hawkins & Associates helped locate internal medicine physicians for her practice.

“Our practice was seeking internal medicine physicians. With a small candidate pool, no recent physician recruiting experience and a geographically dispersed practice with unique needs at each office, we had our work cut out for us.”

“Merritt Hawkins’ staff is very hard working and responsive. They are timely and their work is high quality. Phone calls were always returned and their follow-up was consistent. They also showed a willingness to be flexible about our choices and decisions.”

“Merritt Hawkins was able to identify candidates within our geographic area who wished to live in Rhode Island and make a long-term commitment to their practice.”

“I would recommend Merritt Hawkins to others and would work with them again in the future.”
