As physician search becomes more challenging, many facilities require additional resources to be successful. In the following assessment, Mark Larey, DO, Vice President of Medical Affairs for St. Joseph Mercy Health in Hot Springs, Arkansas, discusses how Merritt Hawkins & Associates is providing the approach his facility requires.

“Like many hospitals, we have multiple needs for physicians in various specialties. I was familiar with Merritt Hawkins & Associates due to their visibility in the marketplace and we selected them based on their brand name and reputation.”

“Merritt Hawkins & Associates has been effective in the searches it has undertaken on our behalf based on a superior level of follow-through and candidate screening. Our consultants are quick to back to us, generally returning our calls the same day and ensuring that everyone has been properly communicated with. Through their review process they have been able to send us appropriate candidates consistent with our needs.”

“We have tried other approaches to recruitment but felt we needed a more aggressive approach such as provided by Merritt Hawkins & Associates. This approach is working and we continue to use the firm for our ongoing needs.”
