Merritt Hawkins & Associates conducts several hundred searches for radiologists each year, consistently placing candidates in this high-demand medical specialty.

Following is an assessment of our services by Kevin J. Kelly, Chief of the Radiology Department at Latrobe Area Hospital in Latrobe, Pennsylvania. These remarks are extracted from a letter Mr. Kelly wrote to an executive with our Eastern Regional Office.

"I am writing to thank you and your firm for your help in recruiting several radiologists. Last year you helped us recruit two radiologists, one who is still with us and is an excellent fit with our group. The second one left, for reasons that could not be foreseen by your firm or by us."

"However, true to our agreement, you replaced this position without us having to pay another recruiting fee. I would like to especially thank you for a very thorough and professional job in providing this replacement, and in addition to another new position. This was no easy task, given today's recruitment environment. It is especially impressive that one of the new candidates is an interventional radiologist, a specialty in very high demand."

"My sincere thanks for a job very well done; should our group require recruiting services in the future I will not hesitate to use Merritt Hawkins & Associates."
