Merritt Hawkins is proud to have developed longstanding partnerships with clients that endure over the course of multiple search assignments and grow beyond the typical client/vendor relationship. In the following client evaluation, Amber Bourey, Senior Manager of Provider Services with Healthcare Partners of Nevada in Las Vegas, Nevada, describes the partnership Merritt Hawkins has developed with her organization.

“We have partnered with Merritt Hawkins on search efforts for a wide range of physicians and advanced practice professionals, including those in primary care, laborists, cardiology, endocrinology, nurse practitioners and physician assistants.”

“These were challenging searches based on the competitive market for candidates and our lack of presence in the new graduate primary care space.”

“Merritt Hawkins responded with a healthy mix of experienced and new graduate candidates and provided a steady stream of candidates for us to consider. Their team of consultants is responsive, easy to work with, considerate and adaptive to our culture and recruitment process.”

“Compared to other search firms I have worked with, Merritt Hawkins does a better job of integrating as a partner. They are eager to perform and fill positions, but their approach considers what is beneficial to their clients first, not to their firm. As a result, working with Merritt Hawkins feels more like a partnership rather than an entity looking to better their bottom line.”

“Based on our experience I would both recommend Merritt Hawkins to other facilities and continue partnering.”
