CLIENT ASSESSMENT

Alicia Kirley, MBA
Director of Integrated Medical Practice
Pittsburgh Mercy Health System
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Merritt Hawkins' unique approach to physician search is built on a personal, consultative approach combined with comprehensive, national candidate sourcing resources. In the following client assessment, Alicia Kirley, Director of Integrated Care for Pittsburgh Mercy Health System in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, discusses how Merritt Hawkins' recruiting methods were successful for her facility.

"We partnered with Merritt Hawkins in order to recruit four psychiatrists for our facility."

"The challenges involved in these searches included various salary-related concerns and both local and national competition for candidates."

"In rating Merritt Hawkins' services, I would say that they serve as both a recruiter and a consultant, assisting us in evaluating and adjusting our wage bands to be a competitive employer as well as sourcing several highly competent physicians."

"Merritt Hawkins' consultants are organized, resourceful, and knowledgeable about the industry."

"I have worked with other recruiting companies and Merritt Hawkins brings a broader search capacity – other agencies seem more local and limited, but Merritt Hawkins definitely has a broader reach."

"I would both use Merritt Hawkins again and recommend them to others."
