

James A. Barnes, MD
West Florida Radiology Associates
Milton, Florida

Merritt Hawkins, the nation's leading physician search and consulting firm, has developed a knowledge and resource-based approach to physician recruiting that remains unique in the industry. In the following client assessment, James A. Barnes, M.D. of West Florida Radiology Associates in Milton, Florida, describes how Merritt Hawkins applied our approach and was successful for his facility.

"We partnered with Merritt Hawkins in the recruitment of a radiologist. We required an additional physician in this specialty in order to meet increasing volumes of work."

"Merritt Hawkins' response to our needs was excellent, beyond expectations."

"In assessing the strengths of the firm I would single out three factors. They were honest, focused and involved throughout the process."

"I have worked with other physician search firms in the past and based on my experience I would give Merritt Hawkins a five-star rating."

"I would absolutely recommend Merritt Hawkins to others and work with the firm again."